3D Printed OO Gauge Axle Counters - 10 Pack

British railway axle counters have joined the Key Model World Shop with release of a 3D printed design by PJM Models for 'OO' gauge. It was originally created for Pete Waterman's Making Tracks layouts and they are available now as a 10 pack.

£2.99

Axle counters are positioned at the beginning and end of a track section and count the numbers of axles entering and leaving the section. They have been used to replace traditional track circuits on the British railway network during infrastructure upgrades in recent years and are suited to privatisation era layouts.

NEW! Exclusive laser-cut viaduct kits for 'OO' and 'TT:120' scales

New and exclusive to the Key Model World Shop are laser-cut kits to build this stunning model based on the Grade II listed Outwood Viaduct in Radcliffe, Manchester. The kits are available as an outer two arch kit and additional single arches to slot in between to extend the length.

Option A: This 'OO' gauge kit is the outer two arch design which includes the main supports, two arches and a central column. Additional arches are available separately in the Key Model World Shop to extend the bridge with as many arches as required.

The deck is designed to support a double track main line with the outer kit measuring 647mm x 120mm in 'OO' gauge. Track bed height from the ground is 209mm in 'OO'.

Option B: This 'OO' gauge kit is the single arch designed to extend the two-arch kit. Multiple single arches can be added between the outer arches to create long multi-arch structures.

This kit contains all the parts required to assemble a single arch as well as a detailed supporting column which features a 3D printed top to the centre.

Option C: This 'TT:120' scale kit is the outer two arch design which includes the main supports, two arches and a central column. Additional arches are available separately in the Key Model World Shop to extend the bridge with as many arches as required.

The deck is designed to support a double track main line with the outer kit measuring 406mm x 75mm in 'TT:120' scale. Track bed height from the ground is 148mm in 'TT:120' scale.

Option D: 'TT:120' scale kit is the single arch designed to extend the two-arch kit. Multiple single arches can be added between the outer arches to create long multi-arch structures.
